

Diane Pasini-Hill joined the Office of Research and Statistics in 1998. She assists in the management of the unit and oversees the work of research staff. Among other projects, Diane managed the ORS' evaluations of the DOC Youthful Offender System, the Community-Based Management Pilot Programs for Youth with Mental Illness Involved in the Criminal Justice System, and the John Eachon Re-Entry Program (JERP). On behalf of the Task Force for the Continuing Study of the Treatment of Persons with Mental Illness who are Involved in the Criminal Justice System, Diane spearheaded the statewide implementation of law enforcement Crisis Intervention Teams (CIT), an initiative that trains officers in specific skills to successfully engage citizens with mental illness. Since 2009 and on behalf of the Commission on Criminal and Juvenile Justice, Diane has been directing a $2M multi-agency, multi-year, evidence-based training project for the Department of Public Safety. This project is training hundreds of professionals in evidence based correctional practices, including Motivational Interviewing[®] and Mental Health First Aid. Diane is the project director of the Arrestee Drug Abuse Monitoring (ADAM) program in the Denver Jail, a project she has been involved with since 1989. Diane has a B.A. in criminal justice and an M.A. in counseling psychology and counselor education from the University of Colorado.
